COMMERCIAL INTELLIGENCE

MONDAY EVENING, MARCH 2.

ALTHOUGH the banks have been open, a large proportion of the native traders have observed this as a holiday, and we have consequently but a quiet state of business to report, there being nothing of a special character by telegraph from London.

The Bank of Bombay return to the 27th ultimo shews the following changes :—

Public Deposits at H O	Inc.	Rs.	2,66,415
Do. do, branches	Dec.	,,	1,27,097
Other Deposits	Dec.	,,	10,73,503
Government Securities	Dec.	,,	84,393
Loans	Dec.	,,	3,44,248
Bills Discounted	Inc.	,,	69,410
Cash with other Banks	Dec.	,,	2,69,159
Cash and Currency Notes	Dec.	,,	5,46,621

The withdrawals under the head of deposits may have been partly owing to preparations for the holidays, but in any case the actual reduction in the strength of the bank is insignificant, and not likely to affect the general position of the market.

EXCHANGE.—Extreme quietness has been the leading feature in the market for sterling transactions reported being very limited in extent. Bank Paper remains practically unaltered, but there are buyers of private paper at 1-32d. to 1-16d. reduction from Friday's closing rates, with few sellers.

The telegram from America regarding the Silver coinage has had no strengthening effect, the previous announcement having had no importance attached to it. Rates are :—

Bank Bills on demand	1s 6 31-32d.	per rupee
Do. Telegraphic	1s. 6 7-8d.	,,
Do. 3 months' sight	1s. 7d.	,,
Credits 3 months' sight	1s. 7 3-16d.	,,
France 3 months' sight	208¾	,,

IN GOVERNMENT PAPER there has been little doing, except the settlement of the delivery transactions maturing to-day. That, however, having passed over satisfactorily, rates are firmer at Rs. 96½ for Fours and Rs. 99½ to ¾ for Fours-and-a-half.

The SHARE MARKET continues closed for the Holi.

COTTON.—Americans to arrive in Liverpool being quoted 1-64d. to 1-32d. lower on Saturday, the market here to-day would have been dull under any circumstances, but owing to the Holi there has practically been nothing doing. Rates, as quoted below, are nominally Re. 1 to Rs. 2 per candy lower. Receipts for the half of the week are 15,000 bales, which shows no increase :—

	F.G.F.	Good.	Fully Good.
Bengals, ready	Rs. 150	Rs. 163	Rs. 172
Oomras, ,,	131-4	,, 191-4	,, 200
Broach, March	,,	227-30	,,
Dholleras, April-May	,,	198-200

WHEAT is dull, with extremely few buyers, and prices are practically as 8 per candy lower.

SEEDS.—Linseed is firm and in request for this month's delivery, which has been rather oversold, but distant delivery is not in much demand. For March we quote Rs. 5-14, May Rs. 5-12 per cwt.

FREIGHTS keep very dull, with no disposition on the part of shippers to do business. For Dunkirk two steamers have engaged to-day at 20s. to 22s. 6d. per ton to fill up. Closing rates are—

	Ready.	Forward.
Liverpool	20s. 3d.	20s.3d.
Continent	20s. 3d.	25s.
Open Charter	25s.	25s.
Havre	27s. 6d.	....
Antwerp	25s. 3d.	....
Marseilles	25s. 3d.	....
Trieste-Venice	32s. 6d.	....

The Bombay Gazette

TUESDAY, MARCH 3, 1885.

THE understanding in London, Reuter tells us, is that the Cabinet will hasten the passage of the Bill for the redistribution of seats, and that Parliament will be dissolved immediately afterwards. This, no doubt, is the substance of the decision arrived at by the Cabinet in their four hours' deliberation last Saturday. It is perhaps the best resolution that could have been taken in the circumstances. As we showed yesterday, it would be extremely inconvenient, in the public interest, for them to resign just now. So long as the Redistribution Bill remains to be enacted an essential part of the work which the country looks to them to perform will be unaccomplished. Lord Salisbury and Sir Stafford Northcote, no doubt, could be trusted to pilot it through Parliament, but there could be no greater anomaly than to pass that duty on to them. And if there are strong reasons against an immediate resignation of Ministers, there are even stronger against advising the Crown at once to dissolve Parliament. That course, indeed, would be a political impossibility, and it is practically out of the range of discussion. Ministers must lag somewhat superfluously for yet a while on the stage upon which they have not of late won any striking success. If they cling to office it can be because of no love of it, or for any comfort it can at present yield them, nor, we imagine, because of any strong confidence that the sense of the nation is with them. They have reached a stage in their career at which under ordinary conditions it would be their duty and to their interest either to resign or to appeal to the country. But the Redistribution Bill is in the way, a practically insuperable obstacle to a prompt termination of the Parliamentary embarrassment in which Ministers find themselves. Could we wonder if the Opposition were to point to the situation which the vote of last Friday has brought about as one more condemnation of the obstinacy of the Cabinet in refusing to deal with the whole question of electoral reform last session, instead of leaving over the Redistribution Bill as an embarrassing remanet to this year ? Still, if that measure is the only obstacle to a dissolution, it ought not long to stand in the way. It was read a second time before the House adjourned before Christmas ; it has now only to pass through the Committee stages in the House of Commons, and Lord Salisbury, who is its joint author, ought to be able to ensure its rapid passage through the House of Lords. The readiness of the Opposition to help forward the Redistribution Bill will, indeed, be in ratio with their eagerness to appeal to the country. They seemed anxious enough for a dissolution when the quarrel with the House of Lords was at its height last autumn ; they can scarcely be less anxious for it now when, as one of the chroniclers of the day assures us, there are at least a thousand men, aye and women too, in London who would like to see Mr. Gladstone hanged. So then there is everything to encourage the belief that the session will not last much longer, and that before the leaves on English trees have turned brown there will be a new Parliament. Will there be a new Ministry ? Upon that point it will not be safe to say much more than that Lord Salisbury and his friends have in solemn conclave resolved that they are ready to take office. But was there ever a time when they did not feel ready ? This does not mean very much. We can see pretty clearly, however, that the question whether the present administration remain in office will be in a large degree determined in Egypt, even before it has been submitted to the constituencies.

THE two telegrams which have come during the past day or two from America with regard to the silver coinage there are equally unimportant. In stating his view in favour of the stoppage of the silver coinage, the President-elect of the United States only followed in the footsteps of his predecessors in office, Presidents Hayes, Garfield, and Arthur, all of whom have supported their Secretaries of the Treasury in recommending to Congress the repeal of the Bland Bill. Mr. Cleveland has only gone a step further in writing a letter on the subject a few days before his inauguration, which takes place at Washington to-morrow. There is no good reason for anticipating any greater result to follow from this recommendation than from the others. Again, the refusal of the moribund Congress to give the President power to stop the coinage for a year means nothing. This Congress comes to an end to-day, for a new House of Representatives take their seats to-morrow, when the new President begins his term of office. It was natural, therefore, that neither House would think it right to take such an important step within a day or two of the conclusion of their term. That the Americans will come in time to realize the folly of coining and storing silver dollars we fully believe, but that time is not yet. They must first suffer for their folly, that is, experience the disaster which their President-elect prophesies. All the men of light and leading in the United States appreciate the danger which attends the coinage and storing of vast masses of silver dollars which never go into circulation ; but the masses of the people, particularly in the west and south, only know that money is cheap, and do not care to look further. While the silver dollars do not go into circulation they are received on deposit by the Government, and the deposit receipts pass as money in the movement of produce between the Eastern and the Western States, and thus act for the real currency of the country, which otherwise would be Burra.

largely engaged in these transactions. The masses know that the stoppage of the silver coinage would mean less money and a fall in prices, higher interest, and consequently a slower development of industries. That the new Congress which assembles the day after to-morrow in Washington will move in the matter in opposition to the prejudices of the people is not, we think, likely. Again, if the Democratic House of Representatives should support the new President in this matter, it is not at all likely that the Republican Senate would concur. While therefore the good sense of the American people, or some financial crash, may lead Congress ultimately to repeal the Bland Bill, we do not anticipate any movement in that direction at present. It will at least take some time for the new Congress to organize itself, and any attempt to pass such a measure would meet with all the opposition and delay which party tactics afford. The friends of repeal could not hope to make any progress for some months, even if they had any hope of carrying it during the present session of Congress.

AN announcement which closely concerns the export grain trade of Bombay came by telegraph a day or two since. The French Chamber have passed the Bill recently introduced by the Government for the imposition of an import duty upon foreign grain. The original proposal was to charge a duty of five francs per hundred kilogrammes upon "transoceanic grain," which, of course, would have included Indian wheats, Continental produce being admitted at two francs per hundred kilos. The duty, however, ultimately assumed a uniform rate of three francs upon all imported grain, this being in addition to the existing duty of sixty centimes per hundred kilos. We believe that the new duty will come into operation on the 15th of the present month. The first result of the Bill, so far as it affected the Indian wheat trade, was to encourage shipments to Marseilles, shippers taking advantage of the few days of grace that remained before the passing of the measure to increase their stocks. But this influence must necessarily be of an evanescent kind, and the more abiding consequence of the action of the French Government has been a serious disturbance of the wheat trade between Bombay and the French ports. A duty, indeed, which amounts to more than fifteen per cent. upon the present prices could have no other result, and seeing that the value of the exports of wheat from Bombay have for the past three years considerably exceeded—in 1881-82 it was nearer two crores than one—a crore of rupees a year, this new departure in the fiscal policy

HIS EXCELLENCY THE GOVERNOR leaves for Poona to-morrow morning at 8 o'clock from the Parel station. Sir James will be entertained at dinner by the members of the Club of Western India in the evening, and on Thursday afternoon lays the foundation-stone of the Fergusson College. It is notified that the guard now at Government House, Parel, will remove to Government House, Malabar Hill, on Thursday morning, the 5th instant. The usual salute of seventeen guns will be fired from the saluting battery to announce His Excellency's departure.

HIS EXCELLENCY THE GOVERNOR presided yesterday at an important meeting of the guarantors of the Bombay International Exhibition. In recommending its postponement for another year, Sir James Fergusson said the undertaking would then receive the direct assistance and patronage of the Government of India, the hearty support of the Prince of Wales and the Secretary of State for India, and their proposals would go forth with the strongest stamp of official approval they could possibly receive. After the Governor's address, it was unanimously decided on the motion of the Hon. J. B. Peile seconded by Sir Jamsetjee Jejeebhoy, to open the exhibition in November, 1887, instead of December, 1886. Mr. Geary next nominated the following twelve gentlemen as representatives of the guarantors on the executive committee :—Mr. Forbes Adam, Mr. V. Atmaram, Mr. T. Forrest, Mr. Nanabhoy B. Jeejeebhoy, Dr. Macdonald, Mr. Sorabjee Framjee Patel, Mr. F. D. Parker, Mr. R. M. Sayani, Mr. Cummoo Suleiman, Mr. Rienzi Walton, Mr. J. P. Watson, and Mr. Damodhar Tapidas Varzdas. This was also agreed to, and the Governor announced that the representatives of Government would be :—Mr. Ollivant, the Municipal Commissioner, or the Municipal Commissioner for the time being ; the Collector of Bombay, Lieut-General Merriman, Major Portman, and Khan Bahadur M. C. Murzban. These names were received with the warmest approval. His Excellency was not prepared to name the chairman of the Committee, and the selection of a secretary would be left to the guarantors. The Hon. K. T. Telang, in proposing a vote of thanks to Sir James, hoped that His Excellency would find himself able to be present at the opening ceremony. This hope was cordially endorsed, and although the Governor said it would be rash to make a promise in the matter he should feel the greatest pleasure if he could return to see the realization of the project.

A MARINE COURT OF INQUIRY, consisting of Mr. C. P. Cooper, Chief Presidency Magistrate, Lieut. A. R. P. Bawden, of H. M. S. Osprey, and Mr. G. Shaw, commander of the s. s. Inflexible, sat specially at the Fort police office yesterday to investigate the circumstances connected with the stranding of the s.s. Pharos on the Sintyan Reef in the Red Sea, on the 29th January. Mr. Little, Solicitor to Government, appeared to conduct the inquiry. The vessel is said to have remained on the reef for nine days, and to have received material damage. Mr. Cooper said it appeared likely to the court that the question might arise from the investigation as to the cancelling or suspension of an officer's certificate, and therefore it would be necessary for the court to constitute two assessors. The court would stand adjourned until eleven o'clock this (Tuesday) morning.

ANOTHER Marine Court will be opened in Bombay to-morrow morning concerning the running down of a mutchwa, and the consequent loss of three lives, by the British India Steam Navigation Company's s. s. Arabia, Captain Paswell, during her voyage from Bussorah to Bombay.

PENDING the settlement of the question of constructing approaches on both sides of the Goral wreek (Dharavi Island), Salsette, a ferry toll has been stabilshed for the first time there, and the contract for the ensuing year has been taken over by Mr. Bernard Henriques.

A CORRESPONDENT, writing from Gwadur under date the 7th February, says :—The latest news from the interior is to the effect that the heavy fall of rain has destroyed a large bund which had been constructed across the river in Ketch for irrigation purposes. This bund withstood many heavy falls of rain in former years, but now it has been entirely washed away. The catastrophe has produced dismay among the agricultural population. A serious accident occurred lately in a mosque, which suddenly collapsed, burying three Koran reciters. By great exertions the men were rescued, but one of them subsequently died, and the others are badly injured. Orders appear to have been received by His Excellency the Walli from His Highness the Sultan Toorkee to reconstruct the fort of Piskan, which was destroyed by the late rains.

HIS GRACE MONS. AGLIARDI, Catholic Archbishop and Delegate Apostolic for India, left Lahore on Tuesday evening for Rawulpindi, accompanied by the Right Rev. Dr. Paul Tosi, Bishop of the Punjab. After a stay of about two days in Pindi, His Grace proceeds to Delhi for two days, and thence direct to his headquarters at Bombay.

THERE appears to be some doubt as to whether Sir Lepel Griffin will go to Jellalabad to meet the Ameer Abdul Rahman, and in Calcutta the report is not credited. It is not yet settled where the Viceroy will meet the Ameer of Kabul, but Lahore and Umballa are both spoken of as suitable places, as well as Peshawar and Cambellpore. Either Lahore or Umballa, says the Punjab paper, would be better than a frontier station : but the great thing is to get the Ameer to come as soon as possible.

THE Indian Medical Journal, in referring to Dr. Blanc's quotation, at a recent meeting of the Bombay Corporation, of Surgeon-General Cuningham's objection to the removal of cholera patients to hospital, says :—" While agreeing with Dr. Cuningham that it is not desirable to attempt to force the cholera patients into hospital, we do not agree with his reason for not doing so—that the disease is not contagious. We believe that cholera is mildly contagious, as enteric fever is, and that the excreta in both cases are chiefly the media of contagion. If therefore these are thoroughly disinfected and destroyed we see no serious objection to patients being treated at home. If the patients can be isolated and as few members of the family as possible brought into contact with them, the chances of contagion are lessened. Attendants should be instructed to attend strictly to their own personal cleanliness, to avoid taking food with unwashed hands, and not to take food in the apartment occupied by the cholera patients. In the treatment of cholera patients every moment is of importance, and valuable lives may be lost by wasting time in sending them to the hospital. For the very poor, however, there is often little comfort and less attention at their own homes : each case must be treated on its merits. There can be no doubt that when an attempt is made to force all patients into hospital, cases are concealed, and more harm than good may then be done.

THE Government of India has sanctioned the further advance of Rs. 50,000 from Imperial funds in order to provide for the necessary outlay during the current year on the Madras Harbour Works.

ALL irrigation works in the Madras Presidency are not as profitable to the Government as those of the Godaveri. The Secretary of State for India has just sanctioned a revised estimate, amounting to Rs. 19,93,893, for what is known as the Palar anicut system as an imperial work. Of this sum Rs. 15,92,004 have been expended up to the end of 1882-83, and the balance was to be spent in completing the work, which it is calculated will be done in 1886-87. When irrigation operations commence, it is expected that water will be supplied to 68,700 acres of first, and 34,000 of second crop, the net revenue from which is calculated to be Rs. 93,720. This would give a return of only 3·68 per cent. on the total capital expended and arrears of interest accrued, in the tenth year after the completion of the project.

THE Bhils have so far remained faithful to their solemn promise to refrain from indulgence in the practice of witchswinging, not a single case having occurred during last year. The conduct of the Bhils, in fact is officially described as having been " uniformly good." Two schools have lately been established in the Bhil country, which have 125 Bhil boys on their rolls. They are still a difficult people to manage, however, and require the exercise of great tact in dealing with them. An illustration of this fact is afforded by an incident which occurred in March last, when Major Salmon, the Political Agent of Mahikantha, was proceeding across country with a small escort of Guicowari sowars to meet the Assistant Political Agent of Banswara, with a view to the joint settlement of some local disputes. About 9 o'clock at night, he missed his way, and, owing to the well-meant but injudicious zeal of one of his men in attempting to compel the attendance of a guide from the nearest Bhil Pal, the party suddenly found themselves surrounded by an excited crowd, who had rushed responsive to the cry of the " kilki," the gathering note of the clan. Bows were bent and arrows strung with every demonstration of hostility. Luckily, tact and calmness averted a collision ; an explanation ensued ; and the headman of the pal himself conducted the strangers to the camping-ground they were in search of.

THE Indian Medical Journal thinks it may be of interest to those who may be thinking of trying to get civil employment, to know how many men there are at present officiating without any substantive appointments under the various Local Governments. In Bengal there are fourteen men thus employed, but probably five or six will be confirmed this year, and about as many next year. In the meantime two or three more men will probably be required to officiate this spring. In the N.-W.P. there are eight men thus employed, including one at present on furlough. There are also three junior Surgeons who reverted to military employment at the beginning of the cold weather, and who will probably be taken on again in the spring before any new men get a chance. One civil station in the N.-W.P. is vacated at present (Aligarh), vice Kilkelly (retired 14th October, 1884). Two more should be vacated during the year. In the Punjab there are four men officiating without permanent appointments; but two appointments have at present no substantive incumbents—the Chemical Examinership and the Multan Central Jail. Five more appointments in the Punjab should fall vacant before very long. In Assam there are three officiating men ; one civil station (Sibsagur) has no permanent incumbent. In Rajputana two men are officiating without permanent appointments. In Central India, Berar, British Burma, and the Central Provinces there appear to be no men employed who have no substantive appointments.

THE greatest discovery of the hour in the German medical schools is the wonderful effect of salicylic acid. It is used instead of quinine, and it is alleged that any fever can be broken up with it. Sulphide of carbon has been discovered to be the best means of restoring animation in cases of cholera. In some instances when the patient was insensible even to the pricking of needles, the remedy had the desired effect.

EQUANIMITY in misfortune does not appear to be the strong point of the patriotic Londoners, whose behaviour, when informed of the fall of Khartoum, is thus admiringly chronicled by the correspondent of a Calcutta paper :—" Lord Wolseley's despatch was published, and discussed savagely in wrath, indignation, sorrow, and disgust. No language was considered too strong. There were thousands of men in London yesterday, and for the matter of that women too, who would have deliberately 'lynched' Mr. Gladstone and the whole of the Cabinet if they had had their wills."

THE young Nawab of Loharu has been installed on the gadi of his State. Mr. J. W. McNabb, Commissioner of Delhi, conducted the ceremony. Mr. McNabb presented the Nawab with a khillut of a sword and shield, a pearl necklace and jeegah, a gold ring, and seven pieces of valuable kincob. In his turn the Nawab presented a nuzzur of two thousand rupees in cash.

SPEAKING at Philadelphia the other day of the English law of libel and Mr. Edmund Yates's imprisonment, Mr. Sala declared that in no part of the civilized world is the liberty of the press greater. It may criticise in the severest fashion a public man or the public acts of a private citizen ; but it may not assail his wife or his private life. It may not say, for instance, that the Marquis of Carabas owes his tailor £5. The line is clearly drawn by the law, and enough latitude is left for all the necessities of journalism. " Bless your soul," he went on, " I could set London on fire if I'd print a tithe of the gossip I hear."

THEY do not always manage things better in France, not even in the navy. The French Minister of Marine recently ordered two gunboats from M. Farcy, the shipbuilder at Lyons, at £24,000 each, but in the contract they omitted to specify the speed which the new ships must possess. When they were delivered, as per contract, it was found that they could not exceed 3½ knots an hour. It will cost £20,000 each to bring them up to an eight-knot speed. The other story is even more serious. Eighteen new gunboats were recently ordered, built, and sent out for service in Tongking. They carried each two cannon and some Hotchkiss cannon revolvers. Their armament was never tested until they reached the seat of war, when to the dismay of the commander it was discovered that they were too weak to stand the recoil of their own guns. They are being strengthened now in Tongking, a long and costly operation. In the meantime, they are useless.

THE Times' correspondent in Paris hears that one of the objects of the coming meeting of dynamitard delegates in Paris is to propose terms of affiliation to the Fenian societies, properly so called, whose programme has hitherto been based on the lines originally laid down by James Stephens. Several of the Extremist leaders are anxious for this union, and are prepared to abandon the idea of attacking public buildings if the Fenians who aim at Irish independence through the medium of what is called "honourable warfare" will aid them in effecting their contemplated explosions on board British men-of-war. With that view it is proposed to invite to the meeting Mr. Parnell, from whom the dynamitards have so far rigidly held aloof. It is, however, certain that Mr. Stephens will either refuse to attend, or he will put in an appearance in order to exert his influence towards the suppression of dynamite outrages. Another object of the meeting is to take prompt measures, within the limits of French law, against the further "persecution" of Irishmen in Paris by the Bourdier-Monget Agency. A full description of these police agents taken into the service of the London police, has been published in one of the Paris papers, so that they are now themselves under the surveillance of the dynamite police, who are very active. It is even possible that M. Clemenceau may be approached with a view to an interpellation on the subject in the Chamber of Deputies. On the same occasion James M' Dermott's conduct as a spy and organiser of plots in the service and pay of the British Government, will be discussed. This man, it will be remembered, was instrumental in bringing to justice the conspirators Deasy and Feathers-tone in Glasgow, and O'Connor and Dr. Gallagher in London. He involved the two former in a plot, and gave them the dynamite to carry to Liverpool, having put the police on the watch for them. The dynamitards say that they know where M'Dermott is at present, and that they intend to offer a reward for his "removal."

THE INDIAN CONTINGENT.

HIS EXCELLENCY THE HON. GENERAL HARDINGE, Commander-in-Chief of the Bombay Presidency, left last night in the hired transport s.s. Nowshera, Captain Sanders, for Kurrachee. The Commander-in-Chief is accompanied by General Gillespie, Quartermaster-General, and Lieut. the Hon. A. S. Hardinge, Aide-de-Camp. He will pay his deferred visit of inspection to Kurrachee, Scinde, and Quetta. The attendance of the heads of departments and of a guard of honour was dispensed with. A salute of seventeen guns will be fired from the saluting battery at sunrise to-day to announce His Excellency's departure. The guard of the 21st N. I. now mounted at the residence of the Commander-in-Chief will be reduced to one havildar and six privates. The Nowshera took also three warrant officers, 255 followers, and 12 horses, and having shipped at Kurrachee camels for the Soudan will proceed direct to Suakim.

The last detachment of the Indian Contingent, that supplied by the Madras Sappers and Miners, left for Suakim yesterday in the Indian Government steamer Tanasserim, Captain Hotham. The officers and men, with their followers, were brought from Poona, where they had stopped en route, yesterday morning by two special trains, which were, as before, run into the dock. The strength of the detachment is four officers, Captains Wilkinson and Romilly, Lieutenant Newman, and Surgeon Smith, 173 men, 196 followers, 4 horses, and 158 mules and ponies. The Tenasserim also had on board some members of the staff and a medical officer, 16 followers, and 4 horses. The officers of the staff are Major Shakespear and Major N. Stewart. The medical officer is Brigade Surgeon Morris. It was expected that this Government transport would leave the dock by the night tide, but the smartness with which everything was undertaken enabled the Tenasserim to get away before noon, and she accordingly left the dock about that time. The s. s. Clan Mackay, towing the County of Kinross, also left the dock. Each carried about 150 followers. They proceed to Kurrachee, where they also load with camels.

The only work now left to be done at the docks is the dispatch of the rest of the transports with followers and stores. The provisioning of these boats still keeps the Commissariat Department actively employed, and the shedding is still a busy scene. The loading of the Peshwa, Rhosina, and Chupra are being now proceeded with.

TELEGRAPHIC WEATHER REPORT.

CALCUTTA, March 1.—The barometer continues to fall generally, but with local exceptions. Thus at Dacca, Masulipatam, Cochin, and Bangalore the pressure has increased by small amounts. General distribution remains unaltered, high readings being reported from Assam, Arakan, and Eastern Bengal on one side, and from the Punjab and Sind on the other ; while a broad band of low pressure exists between the two. The winds are little changed. In Bombay and Poona north-westerly winds are reported, and on the Circars, Orissa, and Bengal coasts southerly and south-westerly winds. The weather is very cloudy in parts of Bengal and the Punjab ; it is clear or nearly so elsewhere, while the only rainfall reported is a slight shower at Gya. The amount of moisture over Bengal is large. The temperature has fallen over the peninsula ; it has changed irregularly elsewhere.

THE BOMBAY INTERNATIONAL EXHIBITION.

ADDRESS BY THE GOVERNOR.

A WELL-ATTENDED meeting of the guarantors of the Bombay International Exhibition was held yesterday evening in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce, H. E. the Governor presiding. Among those present were—the Hon. J. B. Peile, Sir W. Wedderburn, the Hon. Sir Jamsetjee Jejeebhoy, Sir Frank Souter, Messrs. Grattan Geary, G. Cotton, and Ganesham Nilkunt, Dr. T. Blaney, Messrs. S. D. Sassoon, Damodhur Thakersey Muljee, and J. C. Cama, the Hon. K.T. Telang, the Hon. Forbes Adam, the Hon. Budrooddeen Tyebjee, Messrs. Varjeevundas Madowdas, Dosabhoy Framjee, Kunderao C. Bedarkar, K.R. Cama, Goculdas Jugmohundas, Byramjee N. Serval, N.B. Jeejeebhoy, H. Curwen, Captain Hunt, Khan Bahadurs M. C. Murzban and Byramjee Dadabhoy, Messrs. S. S. Bengalee, T. W. Forde, D. S. Kemp, and Janardhan Gopal, Drs. R. Blaney and Gomes, Messrs. J. Griffiths, J. Fleming, E. C. K. Ollivant, W. M. Macaulay, J. Thorburn, F. D. Parker, O. Fiedler, S. S. Solomon, Rienzi Walton, J. Marshall, M. R. Wyer, Vanrawundas Purshotumdas, F. W. Stevens, G. Barnett, J. Farnham, J. Slight, Javerilal Umiashunker, Hormusjee Dadabhoy, E. R. Treeborn. Dr. De Gama, Dr. Roland Blaney, Mr. J. M. Sleater, &c.

His Excellency the Governor at once opened the proceedings with the following address :—Mr. Peile and gentlemen,—I feel myself at once in the somewhat novel position of taking the chair in the apartment of the Chamber of Commerce. I also feel myself highly flattered by it being thought convenient to the purpose in hand that I should take part in your deliberations as the guarantors of the Bombay Exhibition. I feel, gentlemen, that you recognise that I have identified myself with you in this great undertaking more as an individual than as the head of the Government, because this undertaking has been from its first inception one belonging to the citizens of Bombay. But from the first the object of Government has been not at all to initiate the movement, but on the other hand to give every facility for it when it had become the confirmed resolution of the community. Now, gentlemen, there have been previous meetings concerning the Bombay Exhibition, and full statements made respecting it; and therefore I think it would be wasting your time were I to recapitulate those early stages. I have in my hand a precis of all the proceedings that have taken place, and which may perhaps, at some future time, form a convenient record. But we have arrived now at this stage, that the bond of guarantee has been subscribed by a fully adequate number, and I should say that number is truly remarkable as signifying both the public spirit of the community and their confidence in their undertaking. We have then got this bond signed to an extent quite sufficient to warrant you in going on with the undertaking, and it is now therefore the time to form the committee who shall give effect to the scheme, which I think now has attained something like the certainty of realization. I must, however, ask your attention to the position in which the matter was left at the meeting of the general committee held in these rooms about three months since. At that time there was a general concurrence of opinion that it would be injurious to the undertaking that it should be postponed longer than 1886. Originally, as you are aware, the idea was that it should be held in December, 1885, before the enthusiasm of the Calcutta Exhibition had altogether subsided. That was given up distinctly, because it was feared that it would come in the way of the great Exhibition designed by the Prince of Wales to be held in England in 1886, and I think, however, that probably it would have been found that the date of 1886 would have been too early. But there was a general concurrence of opinion here that December, 1886, would not interfere at all with the success of the Exhibition in London, and that a later period would be inconvenient for many reasons ; partly that so distant a guarantee would not be convenient to many, and that the warm feeling that has been enlisted in support of this movement may have subsided by that time. Since that meeting was held we have heard from so many quarters that 1886 would be unfavourably received for the Bombay Exhibition that I think it will be necessary for you to consider your last resolution. In the first place, the promoters of the Royal Indian and Colonial Exhibition continue to think that it would interfere injuriously with theirs, and I do think it right to state that the opinion of H. R. H. the Prince of Wales is deserving of much consideration. I believe that His Royal Highness will be one of the warmest supporters of the Bombay Exhibition, and that the gentlemen mainly instrumental in holding successive exhibitions in London will give us large and more hearty support if we defer to His Royal Highness's wishes. We of the Government, at the desire of your president, took means to ascertain what would be the feelings of the great colonies of Australasia, who are always very forward in joining in exhibitions and were large contributors to that held at Calcutta. There was only one of those Governments which expressed itself as indifferent to 1886 as compared with 1887. The others, who expressed their readiness to take part consider that 1887 would be the most convenient time. And it is understood that the Americans would prefer 1887. For these reasons, gentlemen, I must express my own opinion—and it is perfectly disinterested, as I cannot hope to be here to help you—that you would do well to reconsider your resolution, and to postpone it to 1887. I think that the disappointment which will be felt if that be your resolution, will be shortlived and that you will find you have much more time to turn round : and I have no doubt that you will receive a much more hearty assistance from the Government of India and the other Indian Governments, as well as from the other Governments to which I have referred. Well, gentlemen, as I have said, your chief business today will be to appoint an executive committee, because hitherto you have been working in a provisional manner. The guarantors are far too considerable a body to undertake practical work, and therefore it seems to me that a well-chosen executive committee should be appointed, who shall at once address themselves to the formation of a tangible scheme, and particularly shall address a circular embodying that scheme to all whom you hope to enlist in your undertaking. It is evident that foreign Governments, and all whom you hope to attract, will require to be furnished with a definite scheme, so that if they are inclined they shall at once call upon their people to look forward to the Bombay Exhibition of 1887. Gentlemen, I heard from the Consul General of Belgium, who takes an interest in this scheme, and was also actively engaged in promoting the Exhibition to be held at Antwerp, that he was quite sure the Calcutta Exhibition had greatly suffered from its not being really understood by foreign Governments to be promoted and favour by the Governments of India and Bengal. It was got up somewhat in a hurry, it was far too much a private speculation, and foreign Governments always look to an official support as giving a guarantee of genuineness. You know that this Exhibition will receive the hearty support and promotion of the Government of Bombay. We also know, by the promises we have received, that it will receive the direct assistance and patronage of the Government of India, as it will also receive the hearty support of H. R. H. the Prince of Wales and the Secretary of State in London. I think therefore that we should go forth to all foreign Governments with the strongest stamp of official approval that they can possibly receive. (Cheers.) But still, gentlemen, I for one am thoroughly of opinion that it should not be a Government undertaking. (Hear, hear.) The community of Bombay is very enterprising. It possesses men of the highest business habits, and I thinktherefore that this affords only another instance of the confidence which, if placed in private hands, will thrive much better, but of course with official assistance. All the official assistance that Government can give we have promised, and I am sure that when my successor will propose the names in representing their share in the guarantee those who will be generally acknowledged to be deserving of public confidence. (Hear, hear.) It would have been a lasting pleasure to me, gentlemen, had it been my lot to take a personal part in the further proceedings, but I shall soon be, as a Governor, defunct. (Laughter.) It can only be as an old friend, and as one who will always take a warm interest in Bombay, that I may be able to do something (cheers) on your behalf in England ; and whatever I can do I can assure you will be done with the greatest heartiness and the sure. I do believe that this scheme is calculated to do much to promote the prosperity of Bombay. You are acknowledged—I have heard it acknowledged in other parts of India—as often taking the lead in progressinnary respects and I am quite sure that if this is fairly supported by the community of Bombay it will be successful in a very marked degree. (Renewed cheers.) We shall be exceedingly well represented at Antwerp. No other Government in India has secured a separate representation and we have been accepted as the channel for contributions from other Governments and by Native States. (Hear, hear.) Bombay will be seen by visitors from all parts of Europe in a roomy court with the handsome representations of the leading industries of India. I think that cannot fail to attract reciprocally considerable representations from the industries of Europe, and however little some people may wish to see foreign manufactures coming in and competing with yours in India, I hold that the interchanges of trade is one of the best features in the prosperity of a nation. And so, gentlemen, I think that we now go forward with confidence in this great work, and I will now call upon the secretary to read the proposed additional resolutions. I call upon Mr. Peile. (Loud cheers.)

The Hon. J. B. Peile said.—In pursuance of the statement made by His Excellency the Governor, I will read to you the resolution which I have undertaken to move, viz., "That the Bombay International Exhibition be opened in November, 1887, instead of December, 1886, as previously resolved." His Excellency the Governor has so fully and clearly explained the position, that it is quite unnecessary for me to go over the same ground again. It will be clearly understood that the proposal for the postponement is not of the seeking of those who have promoted the Exhibition at Bombay, but, at first, the first feeling naturally had been against any postponement, but circumstances now seem to point to the necessity of agreeing to a postponement. It has been explained that the feeling in high quarters at home is still what it was, and the colonies will not be able to co-operate in 1886, and America is engaged in an Exhibition in London in 1886. The choice, therefore, has to be taken between proceeding with an imperfect Exhibition or its postponement. The guarantee extends to 1887, and the names appended to the guarantee bond furnish ample security that no difficulty on that occasion as regards the guarantees will result from the postponement, while I think that the pecuniary risks of the guarantors will in no degree be increased if we take time to make the fullest and the completest arrangements and obtain a perfect instead of an imperfect co-operation. (Applause.)

Sir Jamsetjee Jejeebhoy said.—Your Excellency, I think what has fallen from you, Sir, and the Hon. Mr. Peile must convince all well-wishers of the Exhibition scheme that we have practically no choice but to assent to the proposed postponement. It is of course a matter of disappointment to all of us, that we have so much depends on the hearty co-operation of others besides ourselves, we shall do well, as it seems to me, to defer in this matter to such strong representations as have been laid before us to-day. We are assured that if we do so we may count on valuable, I might say all but indispensable, assistance from outside, and we on our part may, I hope, be able to turn the additional time to good account. I will propose that in representing their share in the guarantee those who will be generally acknowledged to be deserving of public confidence. (Hear, hear.) It would have been a lasting pleasure to me, gentlemen, had it been my lot to take a personal part in the further proceedings, but I shall soon be, as a Governor, defunct. (Laughter.) I think that cannot fail to attract reciprocally considerable representations from Chinese hands, and our task of civilizing them, when undertaken, will prove the more difficult. That we shall have this task, or else have Chinese or French neighbours on our north-east frontier, appears certain so far as it is possible to count on this class of certainties. Had we been in time, the Singphos would now be our good friends, and the neutral ground (under our protection, though not annexed) would have been as safe to travel in as Assam, the country would have been spared this fresh invasion of robbers, and would have been the highway of British trade with a third of the Chinese empire.

The Singphos, or rather the clan of Singphos called "Kakyens," are frequently confused with the Shans. Now no greater mistake could be made. The Shans are as distinct from the Singphos (Kakyens) as it is possible for two races to be, if language is to count for anything in ethnology. It is almost scandalous that, notwithstanding the future importance of this region and the fact that we have had Singphos dwelling within our borders for half century, we have no Singpho dictionary or grammar, and not one European who can speak this language; but this in passing. From notes I made a few years ago on the spot I cull the following as to these same Singphos. It is perhaps as well first of all to state that they reside chiefly between the Irrawaddy and Assam, north of the latitude of Bhamo, but still further north they extend also on the east of the Irrawaddy to the Chinese frontier. In fact, they occupy most of the country between the Assam and China frontiers north of Bhamo. The Shans, on the other hand, spread east from the Irrawaddy from the latitude of Bhamo, and gradually extending further south the further they are found from the Irrawaddy. Gakieng, their other name (or Kikyen, as written by travellers), meaning "red country," locates their origin in a land of red soil—in this case probably between the Nam Kiu branch of the Irrawaddy and the Depha Pani of Assam, to the south of the Nam Lang. These Gakiangs, or Kakyens, are a very large family, and in former days in alliance with the Burmese, whom they now dislike, fought the British. The Kamputi-Shans—those of them found scattered in small villages along the British frontier—on the other hand are better disposed towards the Burmese than they are to the English, as they are extremely jealous of our friendship with their old enemies the Singphos, and that they lose no opportunity of carrying favour with the Burmese is well known in official circles in India. The Shans, however, are numerically so contemptible in the "neutral ground" that their partialities count for nothing. The Singphos are fairly numerous, though much of their country is in jungle and they have no settled form of or central Government, hence their constant feuds. There is, however, a certain class of feeling which can be made use of by a traveller as if he be provided at starting with a member of the right clan for the line of country he is about to travel through, as a guide and safeguard, he will meet with civility on his journey where, with an improperly selected guide, he might have good cause for returning as another witness against these poor "Kakyens, and brand them once again as "thieves and robbers."

In conclusion, it is as well to call the attention of all interested in the opening up of new markets to the fact that for over forty years no European officer has visited, from the Assam side, this important tract called the "Neutral Ground," so little interest has the Government of India shown in this generation to this most valuable means of opening a vast field to British commerce. Yet no physical obstacles exist against the re-opening of that old road to Bhamo, by which the Burmese armies invaded Assam, and we have been repeatedly asked by the inhabitants to send them schoolmasters—this latter merely a mention as an indication of the good will men with tact would receive—and, lastly, we have a railway to our very door at Makum, in Assam, within from 150 to 160 miles of the Irrawaddy, and Singpho subjects from whom to learn the language, manners, and customs of the people, and to assist us in our mission among their trans-frontier relations.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Are you broken in your rest by a sick child suffering with the pain of cutting teeth? Go at once to a chemist and get a bottle of Mrs. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP. It will relieve the poor sufferer immediately. It is perfectly harmless and pleasant to the taste, it produces quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes "as bright as a button." It soothes the child, it softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for dysentery and diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes.
